
Wave-current stress 95th percentile (value exceeded 5% of the time) in the south Atlantic Bight for the one year period May 2010 to May 2011. The 95th percentile is a measure of the largest wave-current stresses.