

Figure 6. Compass and vane assembly mounted in the field of view of the camera. The vane orients in the current and shows the flow direction when the pictures are taken; the compass indicates magnetic north (16 degrees west of true north at LT-A).