

Figure 28. A photograph of the Imagenex 881A imaging sonar. The sonar emits beams of high frequency sound which reflect off objects and bedforms on the sea floor. The sonar was deployed at Site 6 from October 2003 through April 2004 and was used to observe sea floor bedforms (ripples).